|                  | While serving as a cumulative summary of the webinar series, this module will examine specific formative assessment strategies that teachers can use with their students. Specifically, this module will focus on the infusion of formative assessment into instructional strategies. Rather than having to stop teaching in order to conduct a formative assessment, this session will highlight ways in which teachers can use strategies that seamlessly lead students through a continuous assessment-instruction-feedback loop. |                                   |
